Aims of Buckden Day Nursery

The aim of Buckden Day Nursery is to provide a high quality foundation of care for all the children attending. The children's needs always come first.

Buckden Day Nursery was opened in the belief that children fare best in a home from home environment. We always endeavour to maintain a certain amount of homeliness at Buckden Day Nursery coupled with high quality childcare.

We consider it our responsibility to ensure that all of the children are provided with love, affection and intellectual stimulation at all times.

We are aware of the need to have good working relationships with parents so that we can work together for the good of the child.

In order to achieve these aims Buckden Day Nursery believes that all staff working within the Nursery follow these ideals:

- Be friendly and approachable
- Be positive and respectful of children from all backgrounds and abilities
- Give reassurance, encouragement and praise
- Value children and treat them as individuals
- Encourage children to explore and try out new activities
